Dear President :

My name is Álvaro García, I am addressing to you, as a Spanish student who is also an activist pro-Human Rights and a blogger.

I am concerned about the imprisonment of the activists Adnan Hajizade and Emin Milli, which were sentenced on 11 November 2009 to two and two and a half years in prison respectively, charged with “hooliganism” after reporting being assaulted in a restaurant in Baku.

International Amnesty, Reporters Without Borders, and the Swedish Presidency of the European Union, have all expressed their concern about the arrest of this two activist, having their doubts about the fairness of the trial they had, because of the use of practices like rejecting footage with evidence about the injuries they both suffered at the fight, and because of the fact that a week before their detention they had published a video which was critic with the government.

I am sure, and so is also the rest of the public opinion of the World, that this facts will be personally review by you, the President of Azerbaijan, and that they will be immediately and unconditionally released without any charges.

Please let me know when this two peaceful activists are set free or if there are any changes in their cases.

Sincerely Yours,

Álvaro García
